Holistic Approaches to Supporting Behaviour of Children and Adults with Autism

About The Course

We all have behaviour that challenges at times! For those on the autistic spectrum the way in which they perceive the world can be puzzling and challenging to everyone. Behaviour maybe inappropriate or difficult to manage and a greater understanding of the individual and support is required.

Course tutor, Geoff Evans will explore why certain behavioural difficulties and challenging behaviour arises, how to assess the behaviour, and provide useful tips and practical strategies for supporting individuals with autism.

The course will be taught through a lively mix of presentation, scenarios, case studies and discussion to ensure your learning is interesting and informative as well as challenging our own assumptions about people and their behaviour.

About Your Tutor – Geoff Evans, Head of Quality Improvement, Options Group

Geoff is an expert in the field of autism, and has built a nationally and internationally recognised reputation as a renowned speaker and specialist trainer.

He has spent over 25 years, supporting children, young people and adults with autism and their families. He currently works with those on the spectrum who have behavioural, emotional and social difficulties.

Geoff is a joy to listen to and leaves you wanting to hear more. Not only does Geoff have a wealth of knowledge in autism he has the ability to translate the theory into practical strategies which professionals can use.
