Helping Children and Teens with ADHD Succeed at School - A Half Day Training Course

- ▶ In the UK in every class of 30, one child or more will have Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
- ▶ In the UK some children with ADHD still go unrecognised and untreated.
- ▶ ADHD can cause significant disruption to children's lives at home and school. They are at higher risk for academic underachievement or failure despite having average or above average intellectual abilities.
- ▶ For Educators there are many daily challenges trying to teach these students along with the rest of the class.

About The Course

This course will provide educators with a knowledge update and better understanding of ADHD and how it affects children and young people at school. By the end of the course, you will have gained plenty of practical strategies which can be put to immediate effect in the classroom, so you can help students with ADHD compensate for their problems and achieve their full potential.

Course Content

- ▶ ADHD Update:
Highlights changes in scientific understanding of ADHD & discusses the implications for education.
- ▶ ADHD in School:
Provides a summary of possible deleterious effects of ADHD on academic learning (reading, writing, arithmetic) and social-emotional functioning across the primary, secondary, and post-secondary years
- ▶ Practical Strategies to Implement in School:
Discusses strategies for promoting inclusion, belonging, and succeeding in school.
