

Attention Autism

A Half Day Training Course Monday 28th November 2016, Glasgow

This half day course is designed for health, education and social care professionals supporting children and young people with autism.

Course Tutor: Gina Davies - Specialist Speech and Language Therapist: Dip RCSLT & HPC Reg; RSA Specific Learning Difficulties; Advanced Cert: Pupils with autism.

Gina is a qualified Speech and Language Therapist who turned her passion for communication development into practical and joyful intervention strategies for parents and professionals dealing with autism. She has worked with hundreds of autistic children in schools, nurseries and residential settings, and directly with parents, carers and families.

As well as being an accomplished conference speaker and highly acclaimed practitioner in autism, Gina has established parent groups, social skills groups and language and communication services. She has set up and run programmes in specialist and mainstream schools, working closely within the educational framework. Gina lives in Surrey and remains very much hands-on with children, parents and professionals, traveling extensively in the UK and internationally.

About the Course:

This course will focus on how an understanding of autism and its impact on communication and attention can lead to innovative and joyful intervention that delivers highly effective therapy. This intervention invites children to learn and inspires communication. Gina will include demonstrations of the approach as well as film footage of the work in action with groups of autistic children.

Learning Outcomes:

- An understanding of how to engage children with autism
- How to teach children with autism to focus, sustain and shift their attention
- An understanding of how to teach, encourage and support communication
- An understanding of how to foster group learning skills
- Converting research theory into practical suggestions for working with this population
- An overview of the framework for therapeutic intervention using the Attention Autism 4 stage programme
