Through New Eyes

WHERE CHALLENGING BEHAVIOUR
COMES FROM & WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

A Half Day Training Course

18th April 2018, Glasgow

Course Tutor: Jonny Matthew

Social Worker & Criminologist

MSc; BA (Hons); DipSW; Dip.Crim.CJ; RSW

Working with vulnerable children and young people can be rewarding but it can also be stressful. Children & young people may present with different types of challenging behaviour and we need to be able to respond appropriately to, and help them and manage them.

The course, taught through a lively mix of presentations, case stories and discussion sessions, will provide you with understanding and practical ideas to empathise with children's experiences and more effectively respond to challenging behaviour.

Course Tutor: Jonny Matthew

*(MSc; BA(Hons); DipSW; Dip.Crim.CJ; RSW)
Social Worker & Criminologist*

Jonny's passion is working to help children in crisis to recover and he also likes to inspire colleagues to do the same. As well as his employed work as a Practice Change Lead for the Youth Justice Board in Wales, and Harmful Sexual Behaviour Specialist for the All Wales Forensic CAMHS Service, Jonny is a freelance Consultant Social Worker & Criminologist.

Jonny's research interests are youth justice, attachment, adoption, abuse, safeguarding, therapeutic approaches and particularly how skewed developmental trajectories impact on children's behaviour. He has recently written a book chapter for the Attachment Network Wales on using attachment-based approaches with complex teenagers who display challenging and risky behaviours, and has a book out in May 2018 - Working With Troubled Children & Teenagers, published by Jessica Kingsley.

Jonny is a fantastic speaker, easy to listen to and will bring you a wealth of knowledge, experience, understanding and practical information on working with and supporting children and young people with challenging behaviour.

Who Should Attend?

The course should be of interest to all those working with children and young people who would like a better understanding in this area particularly in education and care settings.
